SPCA Filled to the Max

Local shelter urgently looking for those to adopt a dog or a puppy

The SPCA is currently at capacity with thirty dogs at the kennel, nine dogs in foster care and seven, six week old puppies. Permanent homes are being sought for these dogs and puppies.

“With winter approaching, it is not unusual to begin to fill up at this time year,” said Debbie Lehner, Manager of the SPCA, “However, in order to serve the community by taking in lost and abandoned pets, we need to continually be adopting out these pets. If you are thinking about adopting, now would be a great time to come and meet our four legged guests.”

Due to lack of space, the SPCA is asking Prince Albert residents to contact Bylaw Enforcement Animal Control at 953-4222 if they find a stray dog.
